Table of Contents

EDITOR’S COLUMN 7

GUEST EDITOR’S COLUMN 13

ESSAYS

Colonial Subjects and Aesthetic Understanding: Indian Travel Literature about England, 1870-1900
PRAMOD K. NAYAR 31

Modernity and the Fetishizing of Female Chastity: C.V. Raman Pillai and the Anxieties of the Early Malayalam Novel
MEENA T. PILLAI 53

Modernism and the Birth of Divided Subjectivity in Postcolonial India: A Study of Muktibodh (1917-1964)
SANJAY K. GAUTAM 77

The Progressive Urdu Afsana: Toward a New Aesthetic
FATIMA RIZVI 91

Garbo and Kuchela at the Palace Talkies in Malgudi: Women and Modernity in R.K. Narayan’s The Dark Room
ARNAB CHAKLADAR 113

Modernism, Brahmin Angst, and Postcolonial Indian Writing in Regional Languages: The Case of U. R. Ananthamurthy’s Samskara
KRISHNA MANAVALLI 133
Reflections on a Design in Sheldon Pollock’s Edition of Vernacular Literatures of India: From the Ideological to the Religious and Then, of Course, to Modern Secularism
VARGHESE THEKKEVALYARA 151

Modernity’s Others, or Other Modernities: South Asian Negotiations with Modernity and Amitav Ghosh’s The Glass Palace
APARNA MUJUMDAR 165

Toward a “Post-National” Community in Pakistan and the Failures of the Modernist Bildungsroman
SREYOSHI SARKAR 185

The Modernism of Shashi Deshpande
ALPANA SHARMA 207

Minding Our Keys and Cues: On the Critical Governmentality of Literary Modernism in India
SHARON PILLAI 223

BOOK REVIEWS
REVIEWED BY ANN REA 243

REVIEWED BY TASNEEM SHAHNAAZ 246

REVIEWED BY MICHAEL W. COX 251

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES 255